BREED THEATER.

Another week of feature pictures is offered for the coming week, and will be more cordially welcomed than the sensational dramatic picture entitled "The Marathon Race," and is easily one of the most up to date films to be seen. As the athletic world is just convalescent from the Marathon fever, this is a very timely picture, and will doubtless interest the patrons of this theater for the next three days.

The Welcome Stranger is another dramatic picture, dealing with human emotions, exciting situations, and brilliant climaxes, this being followed by the able second to it, "The Criminal Hypnotist."

An educational side of the program is covered by the magnificent film, "On the Zambesi," an unequalled scenic reproduction of the Victoria Falls, Africa. This is an opportunity for the patrons to take a trip to Africa, for the small sum of the admission fee.

Saved by Ella is another dramatic feature, while the comedy will include "Those Awful Hats," "The Doctor's Love Letter," and a juvenile drama, entitled "The Boy and the Girl."

Mr. Cooper will sing "Honeyland," and Madam Morelle will sing at each performance.

Roderick Theater.
At the Roderick the cameramen have been heard for the first time this afternoon, as everything is in readiness for the wonderful talking, dancing and exciting moving picture, "The Criminal Hypnotist."

The program is as follows: An Obsolete Umbrella, Some Milk for Baby, Ears Tanquary in her latest song hit success, Thompson and Ray in When the Right Girl Comes Along, Dining Out, the song hit of Thirty Ruffles, Welcome Burghie, Those Awful Hats, Raymond, O'Neil sings "When Life's Blue Sky Turns to Gray." Special attention to ladies and children. Admission, afternoons 5 cents, evenings 10 cents.

Miss Katharine Goodson.
The next and final number in the series of concerts arranged for this season will take place Friday evening, March 19, at Slater Memorial hall, when Miss Katharine Goodson, the famous English pianist, will be heard here.

Her talented gifts need no introduction to Norwich music lovers, as she was one of the strongest attractions in the Slater Memorial musical course last season, and the reception she received at that time is well known to the promoters, Messrs. H. A. Threlkeld and A. Mitchell, to re-engage her for this season. Probably more of those who heard her last season expected to hear a good pianist, but were surprised to hear a great one.

Intelligence is the key to the playing of Miss Katharine Goodson, the English pianist. Intelligent phrasing, intelligent elasticity, intelligent use of a very keen sense of rhythm, and most pronounced of all, an intelligent interpretive quality, have combined to place her work on the highest level of the world's greatest artists succeed in attaining. Miss Goodson is a truly musical pianist, and her playing is a masterpiece of art.

Tickets for the concert by Miss Katharine Goodson are now on sale at the store of Geo. A. Davis & Co., including reserved seat, is $1.00.

INSTINCT THAT SAVED A LIFE.

Thoroughbred Horse Refused to Step on Body in Roadway.

Stories of the wisdom of animals are not few in the present day, when the humane societies are doing so much to promote the rights of our dumb brethren, yet each new tale is not without its own peculiar interest.

The following true story concerns a horse belonging to a man living in Worcester, Mass., writes Mrs. A. R. Knowlton, in Our Dumb Animals.

Prince was a thoroughbred, his naturally fine instincts sharpened and rendered more acute by his training, for he had known life on the race track, until some slight accident unfitted him for that career and transformed him into a carriage horse.

He was being driven homeward one evening in winter when dusk was fast rendering even nearby objects invisible. Suddenly he stopped short, trembling all over.

In vain his driver urged him to proceed. Prince refused to stir, and the quivering of his muscles increased.

At last the driver left his seat to discover the cause of this unusual behavior. It was soon explained. Just in front of the horse lay a fact about which his upraised foot—in fact almost as if he had stepped, fallen and was unable to rise.

To avoid doing her injury that splendid animal had resolutely held up his fore foot for more than a minute. No wonder he trembled from the strain of his unaccustomed position.

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT.

John Adams Olmstead, soldier and priest, whose 76 years had been a long scene of intense activity and effort in most varied phases of life, died in St. Vincent's hospital, New York.

Prof. Gottlieb, who was appointed head of the American school of Oriental research, will start for Palestine tomorrow, and will spend some time in Constantinople before beginning his work in Jerusalem.

Benjamin Carpenter Miller, who in 1888 amazed the country by leaving the huge Brighton Beach hotel on flat cars and moving it back from the ocean a distance of nearly 600 feet, died recently in Brooklyn.

The most impressive ceremony that has taken place before the Texas legislature was the awarding of gold medals to Alfonso Steele, only living actual participant in the battle of San Jacinto, and W. P. Zuber, another survivor, who was detailed with the sick during the memorable fight.

The Duke of Connaught (the king's brother Arthur) has offered the king of Bagdad, Surry, a playing field. He was moved to do it by watching the dangers the children ran in playing in the road from the most unceasing stream of motor traffic on a main highway in and out of London.

The two gentlemen nominated for the Wilmington (N. C.) majority last week in the street one day last week. "I shall certainly vote and do all I can for you," said Mr. O'Brien to Captain McRae. "And I shall vote and do all I can for you, and I hope to goodness I shall be elected," said Captain McRae to Mr. O'Brien.

The queen of Swaziland, in Africa, when last seen by white people was clad in a regal robe of oxide, rather the worse for wear. To this simple garment were added a few beads and a few bangles and ankles. She sat on the palace floor and took snuff continually, wrapping around her shoulders an opera cloak of bright green and purple, the diplomatic gift of an English nobleman.

Timothy W. Coakley, the Boston lawyer, politician and writer, now intends to make his future home in Los Angeles, Cal., where he went several weeks ago on a business journey. He has been so deeply impressed with that place on the Pacific coast that he is reluctant to return east.

Mrs. Corinne Rider Kelley, who was recently nominated for senator in the First Church of Christ, New York, at a salary of $5,000 a year, the highest ever paid a singer in the history of church music in America, is one of the best known sopranos in the country, having become widely known, especially throughout the east, through her concert tours. Recently Mrs. Kelley attracted attention in another direction when she and her husband proposed to marry last week, and the nation to Mrs. Herbert Parsons' trial marriage scheme, though they will reverse the process.

KEEPING UP WITH THE TIMES.
A Matter on Which All Success in Life is Dependent.

A physician tells me that he goes through his medical library every year and throws out a lot of books which have become useless to him because the new, up-to-date, the more progressive, are pushing out the old.

We all know that some of the scientific books published are useless a year after they appear in print. There never was a time in the history of the world when the new in every line of endeavor crowded out the old as it does today.

If you examine your business thoroughly you will probably find old-fogy methods, obsolete ideas, and cumbersome ways of doing things; a lot of red tape in your methods.

Remember that nothing else is improving faster than business methods. If you are keeping books as they were kept a quarter of a century ago, if you are using the same business system, you will find that you are way behind the times.—Success Magazine.

A Wrong Attitude.
Hundreds of working girls today, who are toiling to support aging parents, or to aid younger children, are incomparably superior to many of the aristocrats of earth, because they are developing character—which is the only thing in this life that counts in the great scheme.

But the working girl and man who are filled with envy and hatred toward the rich are not to be admired or respected merely because they labor.

If you work only because you must, and hate your work, and hate every man who has wealth and leisure, do not imagine your labor makes you worthy than his wealth in the eyes of the Creator, for it does not.

Whether you are poor or rich is of small consideration in the long run, but what you are in character and principle is of eternal importance.

Public Opinion Might.
The only tribunal, save the battlefield, before which the acts of nations pass in review is the court of public opinion. The sentiment of the world will not tolerate acts which would have been uncondemned 200 years ago, and those who are responsible for government to-day would not do such things. But this fact does not make treaties today more binding than old treaties. Although such agreements are too often broken, yet it is well to make them and right to condemn nations for violating them; for it is in that way that the sentiment grows which will in the distant future successfully demand an international police force to execute the law of nations.—Youth's Companion.

Dantzig and Nuremberg.
In preserving the spirit of the renaissance, the city has done for north Germany what Nuremberg has done for south Germany. Nuremberg built its houses with greater picturesqueness and variety; Dantzig, with greater durability, with more unity of style and grouping, and later; and it has kept out modern discords more successfully. The townsmen ordered his dwelling in the same lordly spirit with which he ordered his clothes. Brick would do for his church, but stone was not too good for his house. And these rich facades are almost as surprising in this steepest country as facades of silver.—From Robert Haven Schuchard's "Romantic Germany," Dantzig, in Century.

A Back Number.

Ex-Governor Guild of Massachusetts, a republican with a national reputation, scores Speaker Cannon for the defeat of the forest reserve bills. Mr. Guild says:

Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, keeps New England for his own. How long will the people of New England suffer their representatives in congress to be controlled by the speaker, whose election means for New England destruction of property, drought, disease and death? How long will the people of Illinois, in this age of broad Americanism, when South Carolina and Massachusetts stand hand in hand and shoulder to shoulder for the common good, send to the house of representatives to speak for the state of Abraham Lincoln this back number of reaction and sectionalism?

At a citizens' caucus in Peru, Mass., James S. Barnes was nominated for the office of selectman for the 52d year. He will probably be re-elected at the annual town meeting, March 1, for he is non-partisan in town affairs and both the Creamer and Bolger factions are with him.

"Dignity is What We Use to Conceal Our Ignorance" is Elbert Hubbard's definition of the word dignity.

Unquestionably Elbert is correct, and every thinking person will agree with him.

Of the people with dignity and count those having it naturally. He who has it naturally, combined with ability, is a great success in life. Those with assumed dignity are—well, they are understood and discounted by the public.

We're no dignity, natural or assumed, and if its use was attempted by the public would discount it. Give us credit for a thorough knowledge of the photograph business; for doing work at reasonable prices. Years of experience in this business exclusively entitles us to it.
